AYOUNG BOY CUT IN TWO

RUN DOWN BY A KATY SWITCH
ENGINE WHILE PICK-ING UP COAL.

FRED ISH, AGED ONLY 14 YEARS

He Was a Student at Prospect School and His Father, Fred Ish, is a Driver for the Sedalia
Egg Company.

Fred Ish, the 14-year-old son of Chris C. Ish, a driver for the Sedalia Egg Co., was run down and killed by an M. K. & T. engine in the local yards here shortly after 11 o'clock
this morning.

The wheels of the tender of the engine passed over his body, completely cutting it in two, and severing
in pieces his right forearm.

The boy, who was a student at Prospect school, was gathering coal in a sack in the Katy yards.

Engine No. 172, in charge of Louis Yunker, hostler, was backing up a sidetrack from the sandhouse to the company roundhouse.

Apparently, neither Mr. Yunker nor his helper noticed the boy, and from the position of the body the boy did not notice the locomotive, for the corpse was lying face downward.

The child's face was badly bruised
and scratched.

Coroner Miller viewed the remains
and decided to hold an inquest,
which is being done as the Democrat-Sentinel goes to press.

The remains were taken to the Sedalia Undertaking company's and prepared for burial, but arrangements for the funeral have not yet been perfected.

DEATH OF C. A. BERTHOLD

Lived for Fifty Years on the Farm
Where He Died.

C. A. Berthold, for fifty years a resident of Pettis county, died of pneumonia and kidney trouble at his home, ten miles southeast of Sedalia,
at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Born in New York city, Mr. Berthold came to Pettis county in 1853
and settled in the neighborhood where he died. He was engaged in farming all his life, until advanced age caused him to retire.

Besides his wife, who is now very low with pneumonia, deceased leaves twelve children, as follows: Mrs. E.
C. Akers, Sedalia; Mrs. G. W. Shrike, Sedalia; Mrs. M. O. Green, seven miles east of Sedalia; Alanzo Berthold,
living at home; Aaron Berthold, Sedalia; Ambrose, Carrie,
Charles and Joseph Berthold, living
at home; Sarah, Kansas City; Mrs.
Bert Smith and Walter Berthold, both of Sedalia.

Mr. Berthold was 78 years of age and belonged to the Baptist church.
Funeral arrangements have not been made.

DEAD MAN A BLACKMAILER

Witness Testifies That Guerlin Extorted Money From Many Women.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Homer G. Smith, now of St. Paul, Arkansas, and for mer business partner of Webster S.
Guerlin, testified today in the murder trial of Mrs. Dora McDonald that Guerlin was a gambler and blackmail-er; that many women had given him
large sums to go into business with,
and that he gambled it away. On one occasion, he said, Guerlin tried to extract ten thousand dollars from Mrs.
McDonald in return for letters from her which he claimed to have, but the money was not paid.

A Banquet and Reception.

Mistletoe lodge No. 22, Degree of Honor, will give a banquet and reception at the hall in the Glass
building next Friday night, with members of Amity and Eintracht lodges of the A. O. U. W. as special guests.
Mrs. Almarita Morgan, of Kansas City, grand chief of honor, will be present.

Another Name for Mayor.

The name of J. W. Patrick is also being mentioned in connection with the democratic nomination for mayor.
Along this line, W. H. Boult, chief of police, will soon announce his candidacy on the republican ticket for re-election to the office of chief of police at the coming spring election.

Only One Session of School.

A good many parents think one session of school would have been the proper thing today, owing to the condition of the sidewalks, due to the sleet, rain and ice of the forenoon,
making pedestrianism absolutely dangerous for both adults and children.

WILLIAM MATHEWS DEAD

FOR ALMOST FORTY YEARS HE WAS A RESIDENT OF SEDALIA.

PASSED AWAY AT TOPEKA, KANSAS

Body Brought Here for Burial in the City Cemetery—The Deceased
Was One of the Best Mechanics in the West.

A telegram was received by the Democrat-Sentinel at the supper hour
Monday evening from Jule A. Mathews, of Topeka, Kas., special agent for the Rock Island railroad, announcing the death of his father,
William Mathews, at 3 o'clock Monday morning, at the son's home, 1328
Tyler street, Topeka, of general debility, aged 75 years, and stating that the body would be brought here for burial Wednesday.

The son, Jule, arrived here last midnight to make arrangements for the funeral, and the body reached here this afternoon, accompanied by a grandson, A. B. Mathews, an operator for the Rock Island road in Topeka.

The body was taken direct to the city cemetery, where Rev. S. S. Martin, pastor of the First M. E. church, conducted funeral services, after which interment was made.

The following served as pallbearers: Judge H. M. Gresham, John T.
Hyatt, Charles Wentzleman, G. B.
Goodrich, J. W. Tripp and James Jenkins.

William Mathews was born at Springfield, Mass., and came to Sedalia in 1868, first stopping at the old Leroy house, Sixth and Ohio streets. Mr. Mathews was an expert lock and gunsmith, a natural born mechanic along almost every line,
and conducted a shop here until a couple of years ago, when illness compelled him to retire. Since that time he had made his home with his son, Jule, in Topeka.

The deceased was not a member of any church, but belonged to the
A. O. U. W., he having held his membership for a long term of years. He was well and favorably known in Sedalia, and a host of friends will read of his demise with sorrow.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY BANQUET

It is to Be Given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

St. Louis and Kansas City lodges, conferred the first, second, third and fourth degrees of the order on Division No. 1, of Pettis county, at the Knights of Columbus hall Sunday afternoon.

After the conferring of the degree work a "spread" was given for the out of town members, followed by arrangements being made for an elaborate celebration of St. Patrick's day in this city on March 17.

There will be a select program,
with a sumptuous banquet, and only those invited will be admitted to the

WILLIAM BECK'S LETTER

SEDALIA BOY WHO IS MIDSHIP-
MAN ON BATTLESHIP
NEW JERSEY.

HE IS NOW WITH ATLANTIC FLEET

Missive Mailed at Rio de Janeiro,
Brazil, South America, January
11—Extracts That Are of Local Interest.

Capt. Louis T. Beck, the commercial traveler, today received a letter from his son, William Beck, a mid-shipman on the battleship New Jersey, of the Atlantic fleet, now enroute to the Pacific coast, which contains much of general interest.

The missive bears dates extending from January 7 to January 11, and was mailed at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil,
South America, on the latter date.
The Democrat-Sentinel is permitted to make the following extracts:

"Dear Folks: We left the Port of Spain at 4 o'clock in the afternoon,
but we had been so busy getting ready that we had had little time for anything else. We were due to leave Sunday morning, but were delayed by not having sufficient coal.
Our latitude is 9:47.

"I will tell you about Trinidad. In the first place, Trinidad is the island,
and the city, which is the capital and a port of Spain, has about 55,000 people. The natives are a sort of a cross between the negro and European.
There are quite a number of English people here, but the majority are Coolies. They wear very bright clothes, with arms bare, and covered with silver bracelets, which they would not sell for anything.

"The city is very regularly laid out,
with streets and a great many parks,
street cars, electric lights and many beautiful buildings. All houses are built on the Spanish plan, on account of the heat. The hotels and clubs are built the same way. While here the officers put up at the Union and Savannah hotels, so we all had places
to stay when on shore.

"We most certainly spent a peculiar Christmas. In the morning there were boat races and different amusements. We had our turkey and cranberry sauce, but you cannot enjoy Christmas unless the weather is cold. In the afternoon we all went ashore. The island is simply covered with orange, banana and cocoanut trees. I saw pretty orchids growing wild, larger than I have ever seen before. One butterfly orchid looked exactly like a butterfly.

"All the fruit here is very cheap.
In the afternoon we went to the Christmas races. You never saw so many wheels of fortune and shell games in your life. You know the natives are the greatest gamblers in the world.

"Pitch lake was too far to get to it.
It was over a day's trip from the Port of Spain. It is a field rather than a lake, and is not in liquid form.

"They have the funniest little railroads for the accommodation of first,
second and third class passengers.
This is all for Trinidad, but I might have an afterthought.

"Jan. 3—I hope this time next year
to be back on the Atlantic ocean;
not that I am at all dissatisfied, but there is no place like home. We have been having fine weather until today, which is very rough. New Year's was a holiday. We are making preparations to receive Neptune when we cross the line tomorrow, so I suppose I will have lots to tell.

"Yesterday we crossed the line,
and as you know there are always celebrations and initiations of those who have not crossed by those who have.

"At 8:30 Neptune and Aphrodite, with all their train, came forth, and the ship was turned over to them. In the train were a doctor, dentist, barber and policeman. The ceremony consisted of shaving the victim with a mixture of molasses and red pepper.

"The dentist filled his teeth with pills of about the same mixture, and the doctor had a swab to wash out his mouth. The shaving was done with an immense razor.

"The officers, as is the custom,
were allowed to pay their way across
at the prize of two dozen bottles of beer, which lasted all day. We have just gotten to Rio Janeiro; the mail goes out tomorrow, so I will have to close."

Talked for Local Option.

Jos. K. Tattle, a former Sedalian,
but now city attorney of Warrensburg, addressed a temperance meeting there last Saturday night and promised if local option carried at the election there tomorrow he would see to it that the liquor law was enforced to the letter."

Wants It Made Broader.

"I want to congratulate the council
on its action last night in adopting a resolution compelling all of the city appointees to pay their just debts," said an Ohio street business man this morning, but they might have gone a little further and made the resolution to include elective officers also."

ANOTHER BIG MEETING

EVANGELIST WILLIAMS PREACH-ED TO LARGE AUDIENCE
AGAIN LAST NIGHT.

SINGING AND MUSIC ARE BEAUTIFUL

The Minister Told Some of His Own Experiences and Warned the Young Men Against Danger
of Social Habit.

The interest and attendance at the revival meeting in the First M. E.
church grows with each succeeding service. Several requested prayers last night. The church down stairs was crowded and the gallery well filled. The singing and spiritual interest is fine. To hear Mr. Montgomery and his wife and the great orchestra and chorus is great and would be a credit to any city in the land.

Mr. Williams said in part: "I had a nice job selling mining and railway supplies and was a prosperous, not a starved out drunkard. I had a nice home, a nice bank account, a nice wife and nice children. I drank wine at the home of friends, and that was followed by whisky at a saloon, and that by a protracted spree of five weeks. I spent my money, pawned my watch and finally took the coat I wore. I was finally taken in hand
by friends and sent to my home town, where the efforts of my boy to have me come home to mamma were without effect, and I was finally taken home in a cab. I found my wife sick in bed with nervous prostration, and in her delirium she was continually calling for me. My mind began to wander and I finally became a raving maniac. When I came to myself I was in a Keeley institute, remaining there five weeks, during which time
I was converted, and have since been devoting my time and energy in an effort to save others."

Last night the text was taken from Proverbs, 1:19, "Young man, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not,"
and Mr. Williams dwelt strongly on the social life of the young man and showed how it is the most important factor in the making of a young man for good or bad. He said: "The social life of a young man has more to do with the making of his character than everything else combined. Social life protected means success;
abused, disgrace and dishonor. A man's social life is abused or protected according to the company he keeps. Bad company can be found anywhere, but good company is a thing that must be sought after. All a young man needs to get into bad
company is to do nothing."

"Ninety per cent of the drunkards of the United States are caused by the social drink habit," said Evangelist Williams.

The subject for tonight will be,
"Our Attorney."

OFFER OF FOLK'S PASTOR

WILLING TO TAKE THE STUMP
IN THE COMING SENA-TORIAL RACE.

REMARKS ARE NOT WELL RECEIVED

The Rev. Dr. Palmer, a Baptist Divine at the Capital, Says Governor's Enemies Admit Administration Is Clean.

Jefferson City, Feb. 4.—The Rev.
Dr. Palmer, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Governor Folk is a member, proclaimed in his Sunday evening sermon that he believed Governor Folk would be elected United States senator, and that, if he believed the governor needed his active support, he would take the stump in behalf of his candidacy.

Dr. Palmer was preaching on the "Reign of Evil," and brought up a discussion of an editorial in the Boonville Advertiser, owned by Col.
Charles J. Walden, once editor of the old Sentinel in Sedalia, and later
state beer inspector under Governor Stephens.

"In this manifestly unfair article," said Dr. Palmer, "the governor's enemies admit that he has given the state a clean administration, and that no fault can be found with his administration of affairs. This is a wonderful admission to come from a man's enemies."

"They charge he has been untrue
to his friends, the people who stood by him. That is practically the only charge. In making this charge they convict themselves of being open to a form of graft. They are friends of the governor for the sole purpose
of getting their hands into the public crib."

Jefferson City is not a Folk stronghold, and many of Dr. Palmer's congregation do not approve his remarks.

amounting to $1,082.60, were allowed.

against the extension.

The Goodnight-Brennecke road case
was continued until the March term.
The road cases of C. O. Green, W. O.
Powell and the McDaniel road case

NO USE FOR "BOYCOTTS"

THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT HOLDS UNIONS ARE LIABLE TO FINE.

MONDAY'S RULING WAS UNANIMOUS

Chief Justice Fuller Says Ban on Factory Is Illegal—The Federation of Labor Is Likely to Suffer.

Washington, Feb. 4.—By far the most serious blow that has yet been delivered by the supreme court of the United States to organized labor was given yesterday, when the tribunal announced its decision that labor organizations are liable for damages for boycotts against manufacturers engaged in interstate commerce.

The decision was rendered in the case of Loewe & Co., hat manufacturers of Danbury, Conn., vs. Martin Lawlor and 200 other members of the United Hatters' union of that city.

The decision of the court was announced by Chief Justice Fuller and reversed the holding of the United States circuit court of appeals for the second circuit.

The opinion of the court was unanimous, and no dissenting view was presented. Chief Justice Fuller said:
"In our opinion the combination described in the declaration is a combination in restraint of trade or commerce in the several states, in the sense in which those words are used in the act, and the action can be maintained accordingly, and that conclusion rests on many judgments of this court, to the effect that the act prohibits any combination whatever to secure action which effectually obstructs the free flow of commerce between the states, or restricts
in that regard the liberty of business."

The combination charged falls within the class of restraints of trade aimed to compel third parties and strangers involuntarily not to engage in the course of trade, except on conditions that the combination imposes.

"In this case the restraint alleged would operate to entirely destroy the defendant's business, and thereby include intra-state trade as well that physical obstruction is not required as contemplated, and the defendants are not themselves engaged in intra-state trade.

"We think none of the objections
are tenable, and that they are disposed of by previous decisions of this court."

The suit was instituted by Loewe
& Co. in the United States circuit court in Connecticut. The company, alleging damages by a boycott against their factory to the extent of $80,000, asked for a judgment of $240,000, in accordance with the terms of the Sherman act. Not only the members of the Hatters' union,
but the American Federation of Labor, of which the latter organization is a subordinate organization, was included in the bill.

Attorneys who listened to the opinion expressed the belief that the decision means defeat for the American Federation of Labor in the fight
the American Manufacturers' association has been making for the prohibition of the publication of the
"We Don't Patronize List," in which are the names of nearly 100 manufacturers.

Judge Alton B. Parker is in Washington now looking after the defense of union labor in that case.
The American Federation of Labor
was made a party to the case decided yesterday, and is, therefore, liable
for damages.

President Gompers, of that organization, when informed of the decision of the court, declined to make any comment "at this time."

Will Get the Bridge.

Frank Sewell, Herman Renken,
and P. A. Bodenheimer are down from Houston today, asking the county court for a bridge near the Renken farm, northeast of Houston, and were successful with their petition.

PROGRESSIVE GERMANY.

The intellectual influence of the Germans is supplanting the French in South American countries, and this solely because of the concerted effort which both the German government and the German people are making to strengthen their position in this quarter of the globe. Germany has been ready and anxious to send her armies to reorganize the South American armies, and she has shown herself no less ready and anxious to send her school masters and school mistresses to reorganize the lower and higher schools of these countries.

Although German commerce has made great strides, her advance in moral and intellectual influence is not to be traced to this fact, but rather to the determined effort that she is making to place her best intellectual forces at the service of the South American countries.

There has been much irresponsible talk about the designs of Germany on South America. Not only is there a lack of any present indications of such designs, but even supposing the acquiescence of the United States, Germany lacks the elements with which to support such a movement. The Germans settled in South America, while anxious to preserve their German traditions, could not be relied upon to support an attempt at the extension of German dominion. The really significant fact is that Germany's influence in South America is growing so rapidly, especially in the educational field, that German ideas, German culture and the German point of view now dominate the training in some of the most important sections of the continent.

In Chile the system of public education is based on German models, and German educational influence is rapidly spreading in the Argentine and in Peru. We need not take alarm because of this, but it is important that we become fully conscious of the fact that Germany is establishing her hold upon these countries not primarily through commercial conquest, but by means of the more fundamental, intellectual and moral forces which develop community of thought and ultimately community of action.

The eternal progress of things American is noted when last week in India at one of the great religious festivals, where only a few years ago the only vehicle in the procession was the car of a Juggernaut, was seen an American automobile, being used as the car of state by the rajah.

The Standard Oil Co. now faces a possible fine of something like $42,000,000, and meanwhile Rockefeller smiles and gives away a few million more to Chicago University without a murmur. He will probably give it all away before the fine is collected, and he'll probably die with several hundred millions still.

Three children's homes in Iowa were found to be competing for some dependent children last week, and the act smacked so much of commercialism that the judge who had their disposal in his hands, refused to let either of the institutions have them, but kept them under the jurisdiction of the court instead.

The number of bi-products to be gotten out of milk may account for its high price. It is said to contain billiard balls, golf sticks, umbrellas, cigarette holders, even glue and putty. Some have even found water and a trace of butter in this valuable dairy product.

A Michigan judge has decided that sausages are adulterated with cereals and water. There have been discovered sausages that were adulterated with pork and beef.

It has been discovered that the color of the human hair may be changed by hypnosis. The same treatment appears to be making our morals somewhat off color.

Middle names are excess baggage, anyhow. Eighteen of the twenty-six men who have sat in the presidential chair had no middle names to gloat over.

WHO OWNS THIS $700,000?

Knickerbocker Trust Company Receivers Face an Unusual Problem.

New York, Feb. 4.—Notwithstanding the efforts of postoffice authorities and a force of sixty agents, 330 depositors of the suspended Knickerbocker Trust company, with deposits aggregating $700,000, cannot be found. The assent of these missing depositors are wanted to make effective the plan of reorganization of the institution.

In speaking of the missing depositors, Herbert Satterlee, counsel for the reorganization committee, said:

"We have discovered vacant lots, stables, stoneyards and other enterprises at some of the addresses on the company's books. It is difficult to say what will become of this money if the owners are not found."

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 4.—While repairing a switch on the Missouri Pacific railway tracks in the east bottoms near Monroe and Nicholson avenues about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon A. B. He stepped onto the track in front of another engine and was run over and his right leg cut off.

McDonald was given temporary treatment by Dr. Ford B. Rogers, an ambulance surgeon, and sent to the Missouri Pacific hospital. He is 44 years old and lives at 3015 Guinotte avenue.

SENATOR STONE'S MINES

EXPLAINS CONNECTION WITH ALASKAN GOLD-DREDGING COMPANY.

PAID CASH FOR ALL OF HIS STOCK

Disclaims Responsibility for Advertisements—Says They May Have Been Too Highly Colored, But He Does Not Know.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Relative to publication in Colliers' Weekly and in a St. Louis newspaper, which connect his name with an Alaskan mining scheme, Senator Stone, of Missouri, prepared and issued this statement Monday:

"I see my old friends, Colliers' Weekly and the Post-Dispatch, are after me again, hammer and tongs, because of my connection with an Alaskan gold-dredging enterprise. This is not the first time Colliers' has assailed me, as it has assailed most men in public life, and everybody knows the deep solicitude the Post-Dispatch has for me.

"About a year ago I did buy some of the stock of the dredging company referred to and some months later I bought some more. I purchased and paid cash for every share of stock I have. I have sufficient confidence in the enterprise to buy more of the stock whenever my financial circumstances may permit, but if I do I will pay for it in cash also at current prices. The amount of my investment would not be large if made by a man of wealth, but in the aggregate it represents a considerable sum to me.

"The enterprise is legitimate as a business proposition and I invested because I believed, as I still do, that, properly managed, the profits would be large. I looked into the business as carefully as I could, and because of my faith in its outcome, I hope and believe that the investment will in time produce a comfortable estate for myself and family.

"At one of their meetings the stockholders selected me as a director. At first I was disposed not to act in that capacity, for the principal reason that it would be inconvenient for me to give attention to the business, but on reflection I considered that I had a considerable sum invested, and as it promised to develop into a large business, I let my election as director stand, and this I did also because I thought it would be best to have a vote in the management of the business when it got fully under way. I have never received a cent in salary or for expenses as director and none is due me.

"With the matter of offering stock for sale to investors and with advertisements relating thereto I have had absolutely nothing to do. That has been wholly in the hands of the managing officers. One of these officers I have known practically all his life, as I knew his father before him. It was he who called my attention to the proposition, and as I have great faith in his judgment and integrity, I have in those preliminaries relied upon him.

"Since the publication in Colliers' Weekly, I got and examined the circular advertisements referred to in that article. It may be that they contain statements too highly colored, although known results from placer mining by improved methods of dredging in other fields where the circumstances and conditions were less promising than those which experienced and capable engineers say exist on this property would seem to make their statements plausible in fact.

"However, if I had known of these advertisements before they were made, I would have insisted on greater conservatism in statement, for I would much rather err on the side of conservatism than otherwise. Nevertheless, these advertisements are only intended to call the attention of investors to the property that they might afterward examine into it and pass upon the proposition according to their own judgments, as I did.

"These gentlemen may be over-optimistic, although they insist to the contrary, but, although mistaken, I have no doubt of their belief in the verity of all they have written or spoken. The criticism which has been made in the publications referred to has not been against the legitimacy of the enterprise itself, nor of my right to invest my own money in its shares, but the criticism has been leveled against alleged exaggerations in one or two advertising circulars with which, as I have said, I had nothing to do and knew nothing about.

"Finally, I will say that the covert insinuation in the St. Louis paper that I was engaged in a scheme to swindle somebody out of a few paltry dollars, is unworthy of more than a passing notice. After living nearly half a century in Missouri, I do not believe that any man, not even an enemy, not even the Post-Dispatch, really supposes that I am capable of deliberately committing such a crime. I have never speculated in stocks or securities, but I have at different times invested some of my savings in cattle ranches and in mining and agricultural enterprises, and that is what I have done in this instance. As to this particular enterprise, there is one thing of which I am sure, and that is that the money paid into the company's treasury will be honestly expended, and the profits of the business, be they great or small, will be honestly distributed.

NOBLEMAN WANTS WIFE

MARQUIS OF ANGLESEY SAILS SOON FOR A TOUR OF AMERICA.

THE LONDON MAMMAS HAVE FAILED

To Interest Marquis in Their Daughters—He Has an Income of Something Like Million Dollars a Year.

London, Feb. 4.—"Wanted by a nobleman, with one of the best titles in all England, and an independent fortune bringing an annual income of $1,000,000, a beautiful and cultured wife, American preferred. Poverty no objection, and extremely wealthy woman will not be considered. Applicant is 22 years of age, 6 feet and 2 inches tall, and called handsome and distinguished in appearance. He desires to marry for love only, and title-hunters will please not apply."

If the handsome and wealthy Marquis of Anglesey were a believer in the efficacy of printers' ink, it is probable some such advertisement would be inserted by him in the American press.

The youthful marquis will leave shortly for an extended tour of America, and London society will be surprised if he returns without a wife.

It is known that he is infatuated with American women, and his trip to the new world is made for the purpose of affording opportunity to inspect the pick of American femininity on their native soil.

Ever since he reached his majority English mammas have been seeking to interest the Marquis of Anglesey in their eligible daughters, but without avail. The young nobleman is apparently determined upon an American wife, and the efforts of English matchmakers have gone for naught.

The marquis is one of the wealthiest of English noblemen, his income being in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 a year.

Money will decidedly not be his object in selecting a wife, so the poor but charming girls across the sea will have an equal chance with their richer sisters in winning the heart, title and fortune of the young marquis.

PAID $50,000 FOR TRACT

OF NEARLY 300 ACRES OF REDWOOD FOREST IN STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

WAS DONATED TO THE GOVERNMENT

William Kent, of Chicago, Was the Donor, and the Tract is Now to Be Declared a National Monument.

Washington, Feb. 4.—"Woodman, spare that tree." This warning, bearing the great seal and signature of Uncle Sam and having behind it the menace of the Big Stick, was promulgated today by Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot.

As a result, nearly 300 acres of giant redwood forest on the southern slope of Mount Tamalpais, near San Francisco, will be declared a national monument, and the man with the ax will be made to keep his distance by the guardians appointed by the government.

The forest, one of the few tracts of giant redwoods now to be found in a natural state in California, was donated to the government by William Kent, of Chicago.

The Windy City philanthropist paid $50,000 for the tract some years ago, but the redwood timber alone is now valued at over $125,000, so that the gift is a liberal one.

The new "national monument" will be known in the future as Muir Woods, in honor of John Muir, the distinguished naturalist. The giant trees will now be given permanent protection, under virtue of the law which provides that objects of scientific interest may be declared national monuments.

The government grove will be a pleasure ground for the people of San Francisco, Oakland and other cities in the vicinity, as well as an object of scientific interest to visitors from all parts of the world.

The chief reason for the permanent protection of the land by the government is that there is no other redwood grove in the world more accessible to so many people. The canon is in absolutely primeval condition, not so much as scratched by the hand of man. It lies within an hour's ride of San Francisco, at the very doors of hundreds of thousands of people.

So long as the land remains in private ownership there is always danger that the trees will be attacked, and Mr. Kent feared this, but as a national monument they will be safe. There are, of course, many finer stands of redwood in California, but no typical groves are owned by the United States, nor are there any which might be acquired by the government, except at great expense.

Originally this land was part of the old Spanish grant, "Rancho Sauzalito." The largest redwoods are eighteen feet in diameter at the butt, and will approach three hundred in height, rising with perfectly straight and clean stems. As none of the big trees has been cut, their age is, of course, somewhat problematical, but it is safe to say that the veterans have stood from one thousand to fifteen hundred years.

The total amount of redwood, roughly estimated, is about thirty million feet, with some five million feet of fir, and a very considerable amount of tanbark oak. Except for a narrow strip of brush along the east border and a fringe along the southwest line, the whole canon is covered with a dense forest growth. The stand is heaviest along the

THE TEN GIBSON GIRLS

WHO APPEARED IN A CHARITY PLAY IN LONDON THE PAST WEEK.

MATCHED IN HEIGHT AND FIGURE

On Three Different Nights They Filled the Beautiful Scala Theater With the Elite of the Metropolis.

London, Feb. 4.—Society girls sing and dancing for charity's sweet sake in musical comedy filled the beautiful Scala theater for three evenings with bigger and smarter audiences than it has ever known in its checkered career.

A bevy of lovely amateurs emulated Camille Clifford and the other "Gibson Girls," in that three act, year-old success of London and Paris, "The Catch of the Season."

It was all for the benefit of the Kensington General hospital, and every member of the company, which was quite up to the strength of a west end musical comedy troupe, belonged to distinguished families.

The most attractive feature was the appearance of ten "Gibson Girls," all pretty, graceful girls and as perfectly matched in height and figure as the professional troupe of London or New York.

The heroine's part was played by Miss Enid Lang, a niece of Lord Iveagh. Even the program sellers were pretty society girls, headed by Baroness de Voynish.

Among the male chorus, representing London "Johnnies," was Baron von Rahden. Their Royal Highnesses the Duchess of Albany and Princess Louise Augusta, of Schleswig-Holstein, gave their patronage to the show.

The first floor was owned by Mrs. Frank Burnett, of this city, while the opera house was owned by Judge D. E. Rose, of Curryville. Manager A. E. Parks, who had the building leased, has $2,500 insurance on the fixtures.

CANDY ACTS AS A FUEL

TO THE HUMAN ORGANISM, THE PARIS, FRANCE, PHYSICIANS DECIDE.

CHOCOLATES SHOULD NOT BE EATEN

By Those Who Have Dyspepsia—Frenchmen Send Interesting Answers to the Question as to "What They Drink."

Paris, Feb. 4.—Paris physicians have come to the conclusion that candies are not half as bad as they are painted, that is to say, that candy, far from being so deleterious to the human organism, is beneficial to the organism and acts as a kind of human fuel, helping to maintain the heat of a person's body.

It was at a dinner of physicians, most of whom are also qualified as dentists, that a discussion arose on this subject, and the decision quoted above was come to. Sugar is a caloric, or heater, and a pound of sugar in sweetmeat form consumed by one person each day is calculated to be sufficient to keep up the heat of the body.

Some reservations were made, however, by the doctors in regard to chocolate, which contains a greater amount of fatty matter than sugar. Indeed, there is more fatty or buttery substance used in the manufacture of chocolate than in cacao, its essential basis. Chocolate, it was said, should never be eaten by people inclined to dyspepsia, kidney troubles or sluggish liver. In all other cases a moderate amount is not harmful.

Eminent Frenchmen have been answering inquisitive inquiries as to what they drink. Very few of them consider that alcohol is an incentive to genius. M. Saint-Saens, the famous composer, drinks plentifully of mineral waters, with just a little wine. He drinks beer very rarely. He says that if he could get absolutely pure mineral water he would drink nothing else.

M. Bonnat, the painter, also finds he needs plenty of liquid refreshments, but he hates beer or any other similar alcoholic beverages. His preference is for pure wine, but after dinner he takes the merest nip of cognac.

M. Camille Flammarion never drinks water, which he considers is only fit for toilet purposes. M. Flammarion's grandfather was a wine grower and drank plenty of wine all his life, dying at the age of over 80 years, in the year when the wine was bad.

Rodin also believes in good French wine, but, on the other hand, M. Jules Lemaitre hardly ever drinks anything but water, save for a glass of champagne when he dines out.

Carotus Duran, the distinguished head of the French Art school in Rome, is a strict teetotaler.

A weak stomach means weak stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It's a pity that sick ones continue to drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has, and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes direct to the cause of these diseases. Test this vital truth, and see. W. E. Bard Drug Co.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D.C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Enid, Ok., Feb. 4.—The tenth annual session of the Oklahoma Grand Lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, convened here today, this being the first meeting since the organization of the new state.

Plans will be made for a determined campaign for new members during the year. Among the important matters to be considered will be that of an annual payment to all members of the order who have reached the age of 70.

The order in Oklahoma is reported to be in a flourishing condition by Grand Recorder W. R. Welch, of Guthrie. The membership is now nearly 4,000, and the reserve fund aggregates $46,000, which is invested in first-class securities.

The order in this state collects twelve assessments annually and has no unpaid claims as a charge against its funds.

A TRAGEDY OF THE SEA

In a Blizzard, the Steamer St. Cuthbert Burned—Fifteen Lost.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 4.—In the midst of a wild blizzard last afternoon the steamer St. Cuthbert was burned to the water's edge off the Nova Scotia coast.

Fifteen members of the crew were drowned by the swamping of a small boat in which they attempted to leave the vessel after the fire had broken out. The other thirty-seven members of the crew, including the captain, were rescued by the White Star liner Cymric.

After taking off the survivors the Cymric abandoned the burning steamer and proceeded to Boston.

MADE THE CONGREGATION GASP.

Northerner's Liberality Astonished the Colored Brethren.

A northern gentleman, visiting in a southern village, attended church at a negro meeting house. When it came time for the collection to be taken, two deacons seated themselves beside a table before the pulpit, with the plate between them.

One by one the congregation rose, and stepping forward, deposited a cent or a nickel upon the plate before the eyes of the watchful deacons. When all the members had gone forward the northern man took a half-dollar from his pocket, and leaning forward and touching a negro on the shoulder, handed it to him and motioned toward the pulpit.

The colored brother rose with alacrity, but with eyes big with astonishment, and holding the coin between the tips of his fingers and extending it high in the air where all might see it, he marched slowly and ostentatiously forward.

He was about to deposit it on the plate when one of the deacons motioned and whispered to him. The effect was instantaneous. The coin-bearer lowered the coin out of the public gaze and stepped back to the door.

"Please, sah," he said, in a low voice, "does you want some change back—and how much?"

The visitor shook his head. Again up went the coin, borne by a smiling negro, and with a clatter and an audible buzz of approval from the spectators, it fell into the plate.

Watched by the deacons, the preacher counted the funds. "The collection this morning amounts to $83 cents," he announced. "We will now enter upon a service of thanksgiving." —Youth's Companion.

SAYS MANY WOMEN ARE BALD.

Hairdresser Refutes Idea Which Has Become General.

"Why is it men get bald and women don't?"

At this question the hairdresser laughed.

"My dear sir," he said, "there are quite as many bald women as men. In fact, I incline to believe that there are more."

He pointed to the switches, curls, fringes, and complete female wigs in his window.

"Why should those things exist if women didn't get bald?" he said. "The hairdresser puts in all his spare time in making false hair contrivances, and nine out of ten of them are made for women. Well, woman wouldn't wear them if she didn't need them, would she?"

"When man gets bald, he acknowledges frankly this injury that the years have done him; he lets all the world see his bare and hideous white scalp. But when woman gets bald, she brings up over her bald spot the long locks above her ears and at the back of her neck, and she further conceals her baldness with a switch, or false curls, or a fringe, or whatever best suits her."

"Yes, take a hairdresser's word for it, woman's hair is no better than man's—there are as many bald women as men—but woman hides her baldness, whereas man lets his be seen."

Object Lesson.

"If the rich of the West side think they have been hurt by the Wall street panic," said the East side dweller, "let them come down some cold and drizzly Saturday morning and look at the pushcart market in the rain. The wet fruit, the dripping paper bags, the drenched carpet slippers only half protected by the dripping oil cloth, the ruined neckties, the rustling tins, the spoiled suspenders. But more than all they should see the people who try to make their living selling these infinitesimal, sometimes almost worthless things, looking on at the ruin of their merchandise from the shelter of doorways, of cellar doors, of the half-protecting roof of the elevated if they happen to be near one, rushing wildly out from these poor shelters at the slightest show of an inclination on the part of the passer to buy." —N. THE "REDS" CELEBRATED FIERY SPEECHES WERE MADE AT ANARCHISTS' MEETING IN CHICAGO.

THESE SHOULD ALL GET THE RUN

Praise for Slayers of King Carlos—Speaker Wanted to Kill Every Policeman in City—Police Chief Alarmed.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—"Never in the history of Chicago have the anarchists been more dangerous than they are at present," said Chief Shippey last night, after he received the secret police report of the anarchist meeting Sunday night in Illinois cafe to praise the assassins of King Carlos of Portugal.

There were 400 anarchists present at the meeting, and in spite of the effort to keep out spies, the police had a stenographer in hearing distance. It was the report of the police agent that caused the chief so much concern.

The speeches were so incendiary and the anarchists were so eager in their advocacy of assassination, that they recalled the dark days of the Haymarket tragedy, when the Chicago anarchists became so bold that they buried bombs in platoons of police at the behest of their leaders.

The principal speakers at the anarchist meeting Sunday night urged more assassinations. They had assembled at a call printed on red paper and tacked to telephone poles and old walls. Formerly there were four groups of anarchists in the city.

These groups were broken up after the hanging of the four anarchists two decades ago. Now in their place appear the "United Anarchist Group of Chicago." Its membership embraces refugees from Russia, Germany, Italy, Spain and Hungary.

The most violent of the speeches was delivered by E. McIntosh. He said:

"Who was McKinley? Was he any better than you or I or the king of Portugal? Was he not a king who was put there by a certain element to crush another weaker element? He got just what he deserved, the same as the king of Portugal, and some more in this country ought to get the same thing right now. I am with the mob. I would like to go out right now with the mob behind me and kill every policeman on the streets and throw their bodies in the lake, like so many dead fish. I could go right now and rob every store and kill right and left."

"I am hungry. I have more respect for a robber than for any one of the unemployed, because the robber gets it, while the unemployed has not sense enough to get it. They have no sense at all. In Russia they are doing right. They kill policemen every day and they rob banks and leave receipts, saying the money will be used for the revolution. I fully sympathize with the queen of Portugal, and I am sorry she did not meet the fate of her despotic husband. My mother was a liar when she taught me to be honest and not to steal. The preacher was a liar when he told me to believe in God. They are all liars. The whole of society is a mass of liars."

The next speaker was a man named Bent. He was comparatively mild, but Dr. Price stirred up the anarchists present to a high pitch of enthusiasm. He said:

"We ought to take all of the so-called sworn policemen of this city down on Michigan avenue and arrest all the unemployed, who ride in carriages and motor cars. Then those arrested should be put on a rock pile and at night locked up in jail, as they are parasites. We will have to destroy the ruling capitalistic class, just as the Portuguese king was destroyed."

Bearded Vultures.

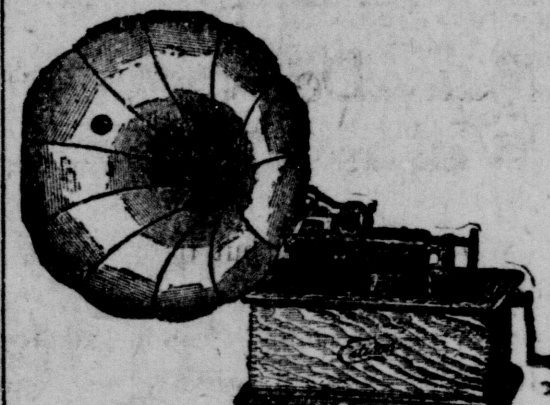

In the London Zoological society's eastern aviary there is now living a splendid example of the lammergeyer, or bearded vulture. This species (Gypaetus barbatus) resembles the eagle in having the head covered with feathers. It is a distinctly handsome bird, and being without the bald head of the typical vulture, lacks their repulsive look. In its habits and mode of life it resembles the true vultures, except, perhaps, that it is rather more dainty in its tastes. Stories have been told of children carried off by the lammergeyer, but they are highly improbable. In some countries it is called by a name meaning "bone breaker," from its habit of carrying bones up in the air and dropping them from a great height in order to get at the marrow. It inhabits the mountainous regions of southern Europe, and its range extends through Asia Minor and the Himalayas to China.

A LONELY SOCIAL CIRCLE

REV. TOOMAY IN SPECIAL SERMON ENCOURAGES SOCIAL ORGANIZATION.

CALLS THEM DISEASED IN SERMON

Paints Black Picture of Their Unfortunate Condition That Surprises —Formerly a Pastor in the City of Sedalia.

The Rev. J. B. Toomay, a former pastor of the Second Congregational church in Sedalia, was written of as follows in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Monday afternoon:

The members of the Lonely Social Circle probably did not fully realize how hard a proposition loneliness is until they heard the Rev. John B. Toomay, of the Fountain Park Congregational church, quote Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Elizabeth Barrett Browning Sunday evening in discoursing upon its horrors.

Perhaps they never knew before that loneliness creates "desolate, disappointed, disconsolate, diseased souls." Just one ray of hope was offered them. Pastor Toomay said "scanty fare for one becomes a feast for two," which would tend to encourage matrimony if two can live cheaper than one.

The "Lonelies" were guests at the service by special invitation and the auditorium was packed. There were rows of unaccompanied young women and shorter rows of lonely looking young men, all casting shy, furtive glances about as if in quest of a congenial mate.

George Parke, editor of the Lonelyite, the official organ of the circle, was on the program for an address, but he failed to respond to repeated invitations extended to him by Pastor Toomay to come forward, and the clergyman had to bear the whole burden of telling what a grievous thing it is to be "lonely." He did this under the theme: "We would be helpers of your joy."

"The message to the shepherd on his hill," said Preacher Toomay, "should not lose its music amid the discord and noise of the city where men are lonely and women are broken hearted and likely to become deaf to the divine strain. The Lonely Social Circle recently formed in this city, which has interested me from the time of its organization, ministers to the poverty stricken souls and relieves starvation of heart."

"It is an exponent of the higher charity, which deals with desolate, disappointed, diseased souls. That condition is as common on King's highway and in the splendid mansions on Lindell boulevard as in the humble homes in our city."

After speaking of the struggle between capital and labor, Pastor Toomay declared:

"But loneliness is more important than this struggle. 'What do I care?' the lonely man or woman asks, 'whether capital and labor are reconciled? Is there no healing for my wounds? Is there nowhere satisfaction for the deeper instincts of human life?'"

"Yes, somewhere there is ample provision. In the Lonely Circle there is an answer to the longing cry."

After warning the Lonelies against reading the columns and looking at the pictures in the "sensational yellow journals," Pastor Toomay said: "Keep the Lonelyite as clean as the sky, as sweet as the zephyrs and as sympathetic as the touch of a mother's hand."

Pastor Toomay ended his gloomy delineation of the sorrows of loneliness with a wish for the success of the circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Mustain and their followers occupied seats near the front. An informal reception was held at the close of the meeting.

A Friendly Tip.

"Do you think, sweetheart," queried the young man with the evenly divided hair, as he shifted the fair maid from one knee to the other, "that your father will consent to our marriage?"

"Well," replied the fair one, "of course, papa will be sorry to lose me, but—"

"But," interrupted the rash youth, "I will remind him that, instead of losing a daughter, he will gain a son." "Dearest," rejoined the wise maid, "if you really want me you mustn't say anything of the kind. Papa has three such sons boarding with him now and he's a little touchy on the subjects."

How She Got In.

A lady accosted a little girl who was entering one of the fashionable New York flats where she knew the rules were exceedingly strict and, after some little conversation, said:

"How does it come that you live in these flats? I thought they would not take in children. How did you get in?"

"Why," replied the child, "I was burned in."

GERM LADEN RABBITS LOOSE

Alarmed Over the Disappearance of Inoculated Animals.

St. Louis, Feb. 4.—Fearful retribution threatens the person whose hunger or cupidity moved him to raid the laboratory of Dr. Nathaniel Allison, and incidentally the entire neighborhood of the Martha Parsons hospital, with which the doctor is connected, is in a state of unrest.

The doctor was experimenting in the interest of science on twelve rabbits, each of which he had inoculated with germs of a contagious disease.

Sunday he went to the cage to see how the various diseases were progressing and was horrified to learn that his "patients" were missing.

Realizing what might result if the rabbits were used as food, he notified the police and sent a general alarm throughout the neighborhood.

Cider the National Drink.

When a traveler enters a tavern in Rouen, France, or any of the towns or villages about it, cider is brought to him as a matter of course; it is the universal drink. Unfortunately the ordinary brand is not first-class. The status of cider as a local beverage is illustrated by the fact that the cider press was carried as the emblem of local industry in a pageant organized in 1892 to commemorate the entry of Louis de Breze, grand seneschal of Normandy, into Rouen in 1526.

The Girl Did It.

The latest invention in kites is one made like a box, with both ends open, and it has no tail. It will fly higher and with less breeze than any other kite made.

Of course, you are ready to say that it is the invention of a man or boy; but such is not the fact. It was invented by a German girl 21 years old, and it is said that she is making lots of money out of it.

It Was Real.

"What a beautiful piece of mistletoe you have on the chandelier, Miss Clara!"

"Yes, Mr. Simpkins, it is; but do you know, I'm afraid it's not genuine."

Just at this point she discovered that it was, and the conversation ended.

Shackleford Wants Congress to Probe Subtreasury Shortage.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Congressman Shackleford, of Missouri, wants a congressional investigation of the St. Louis sub-treasury shortage, which occurred two years ago.

A bill is pending before the house committee on claims to relieve Assistant Treasurer J. T. Atkins of that loss.

Shackleford says the relief measure should be held up pending a congressional inquiry. He charged that Atkins neglected his official duties in order to run political campaigns.

DAIRY DOTS.

One Connecticut dairyman has made 20 per cent. on his investment in dairy stock. Can you beat it?

A cow should not be milked later than three weeks before calving, and until the ninth milking after calving it is unfit for human use.

When the cows stand around and bawl get busy and find the trouble. They may need salt, fresh grass, pure water, or perhaps a calf has escaped.

Do not keep the farrow cow from year to year, unless she is a more than ordinary producer of milk. Many such cows are being kept at a loss.

In handling the bull always treat him as a possible danger. No strong male animal is safe to handle without watching. Never turn your back to him.

Ground wheat is a very good feed for dairy cows, and frequently unmarketable lots can be secured at a low price. It is better to feed it ground.

Cows Differ.

In their milk producing power cows differ all the way from 3,000 pounds of milk per year to 12,000 pounds a year. That being true, why should farmers be satisfied to keep a cow that will produce but ten pounds of milk (about five quarts) per day for 300 days?

REALLY NO TROUBLE AT ALL

Witty Irishman Easily Answered Bothering Questions.

There were two Irishmen who recently came over to seek employment in America. Pat secured a position, but because of some misunderstanding between his employer and himself he was to be discharged on the following Monday if he could not answer three questions.

Pat came home with a heavy heart that night, and told his twin brother Mike the questions, which were: How many stars are there? What am I thinking about? As the brothers looked very much alike, Mike said that he would go in Pat's place and answer the three questions, for he considered himself brighter than Pat.

As soon as Mike entered the office Monday morning his brother's employer said, "Pat, are you ready for the questions?"

"Yes, sir," said Mike.

"Very well, how much does the moon weigh?" "Hundred pounds."

"How d'ye know?" "There's four quarters."

"How many stars are there?" "A million."

"How d'ye know?" "Go count 'em."

"What am I thinking about?" "You're thinkin' that I'm Pat, but I'm not, I'm Mike."

MORE WORK FOR THE LAWYER.

Legal Light Explains Why He Had Doubled His Fee.

Five years ago a certain man made a will. Last week he made another one. The same lawyer drew up both documents. For writing the second will the lawyer charged twice as much as for writing the first one.

"Why this difference?" asked the client. "Have you attained such prominence in the legal profession in the last five years that you are justified in doubling your fees?"

"Not at all," said the lawyer. "There was twice as much work on this will as on your old one. You see, at that time you were a married man and your will was short, for with the exception of a few minor bequests everything was left to your wife. Changes in your domestic relations have made another will necessary. You are now a bachelor, or a bachelor's equivalent, a childless widower. It is much harder to write a will for a man of that type than for a married man. The man with a family usually gives away everything he possesses in three or four clauses, but the bachelor divides his property among so many relatives, friends and dependents and consumes so much time in doing it that the lawyer is justified in charging him double the usual fee."

ATTEMPT TO FREE THAW

WILL BE BITTERLY OPPOSED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY, MR. JEROME.

EVELYN AGAIN VISITS HER HUSBAND

Insanity Experts Are Once More Studying His Actions in the Asylum, but All Are Non-Committal Now.

New York, Feb. 4.—If any attempt is made to have Harry K. Thaw released from the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan there will be vigorous opposition from District Attorney Jerome.

In any course that is taken the district attorney will be notified, and it is understood that he will present the record at the trial, the opening speech of Mr. Littleton and all the evidence in the case, including the statements of his experts at Thaw's first trial that Thaw was incurably insane, to oppose any application for his release.

Mr. Littleton said yesterday that he was still counsel for Thaw. If Mr. Littleton's advice is followed no attempt will be made to get Thaw out of the asylum for at least three weeks.

Wife Visits Harry Thaw.

Matteawan, N. Y., Feb. 4.—The monotony of Harry K. Thaw's second day at the Matteawan state hospital was broken by a visit from his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Mrs. Thaw was accompanied by Daniel O'Reilly, of Thaw's counsel, and several newspaper men. News of Mrs. Thaw's intended visit had preceded her, and there was a great crowd at the station to meet her.

It was nearly 3 o'clock when Mrs. Thaw reached the hospital. Dr. Britton Evans was at the asylum when she arrived. He was conversing with Thaw in the ward when the carriage which contained Mrs. Thaw and Mr. O'Reilly drove up to the big floor on the east side of the building.

The visitors were shown into the reception room and after a short wait there were conducted to ward 1 north, where Thaw is confined. The greetings exchanged between husband and wife were cordial. Mrs. Thaw remained in the ward talking to her husband for nearly an hour and a half. Thaw was much pleased over his wife's visit. He had been looking forward to it all day. Mrs. Thaw left the hospital at 5 o'clock. She will visit her husband every other day, Thaw having expressed an unwillingness to impose upon her the fatigue of a daily trip.

Dr. Smith Ely Liffieff was also a visitor at the hospital yesterday. He arrived about 5 o'clock and spent some time with the patient. He gave out no statement as to the object of his visit. Thaw seems to be trying to accommodate himself to his surroundings and has fallen into the dull routine of life at the hospital with the best grace he can command.

St. Louis Taft Leaders Sidetracked at the Taft Reception.

St. Louis, Feb. 4.—Jephth D. Howe, chairman of the republican city central committee, and Taft leader, has not been invited to the entertainment of Secretary of War Taft at the Planters' hotel here Sunday evening before Taft re-embarcs for Kansas City.

Neither has any of Howe's supporters nor Federal Sub-Treasurer Thomas J. Atkins, of this city, received an invitation to the reception, according to a statement last night by Chairman Howe, who adds that he has not even been notified that Taft will be here Sunday.

These invitations were issued by John B. Owens, St. Louis representative of State Republican Chairman Walter S. Dickey. Dickey notified Owens to invite his friends and also to escort Taft to Kansas City.

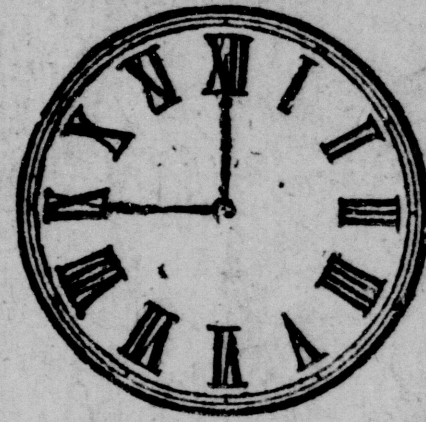

BARS CUPID FROM LIBRARY

Kearny, N. J., School Board Wants No Hugging and Kissing.

Kearny, N. J., Feb. 4.—A protest against the use of the free library as a "Cupid's bower" by high school pupils has been made by the board of trustees of the library.

The members of the board, who have appealed to the police for aid in stopping the love making, say the pupils meet at the building after the school hours. It is not an unusual sight, they say, to find couples hugging each other or kissing behind the portable book cases.

A NEW LABOR MOVEMENT

BY EXECUTIVE BOARD OF THE WESTERN FEDERATION OF MINERS.

CONVENTION IN CHICAGO APRIL 6

William D. Haywood, Who Will Likely Be the Socialist Candidate for President, Is Leader of the Movement.

Denver, Col., Feb. 4.—A new labor movement, involving the organization of working men of all kinds on industrial rather than craft lines, has been launched in Denver by the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, and an attempt will be made to make it national in extent.

The first general convention will be held in Chicago on April 6, when delegations are expected from the Western Federation of Miners, the Industrial Workers of the World, the United Mine Workers of America, the United Brewery workers and other national and international labor unions.

It is understood that William D. Haywood, who was recently acquitted of the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg in Idaho, and who will probably be the socialist candidate for president this year, is the leader in the movement. The union will not be directly affiliated with any political party, but will be socialistic in its tendencies.

Haywood has recently been making a tour of the east and central west, and while in Indianapolis addressed the national convention of the United Mine workers, and attempted to effect a reconciliation between that organization and the Western Federation of Miners. In this he was unsuccessful, and it is now believed that Haywood hopes to win a portion of the members of the United Mine workers for the new union.

The plan of organization now in effect among the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor is denounced by the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners as "tending toward the perpetuation of capitalism and the permanent enslavement of the workers through the wage system."

If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. OBSTINATE ULCERS MAY LEAD TO CANCER
There is no difference, at first, in the appearance of a cancerous and a common ulcer, and for this reason every sore that is obstinate or slow in healing should excite suspicion, for the sore is nothing more than the external evidence of a polluted blood, and if allowed to remain may degenerate into Cancer. Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, plasters and other external remedies always result in failure, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood, where the deadly germs and morbid matter form, and are carried through the circulation to the place. No sore or ulcer can exist without a predisposing internal cause, and the open, discharging ulcer or festering old sore will continue to eat deeper into the surrounding flesh as long as a polluted, germ-infected circulation discharges its impurities into it. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open. Then as this rich, purified blood goes to the diseased place the healing begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation gradually leaves, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs of a healing, cleansing nature, and unlike mineral medicines, does not damage the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. HE CAUGHT HIS MAN FIRST

Policeman, Who Has Been Willed $15,000 Free to Resign.

St. Louis, Feb. 4.—Six months ago William Walsh, a policeman, fell heir to $15,000 by the death of a rich uncle in Ireland, but he did not resign from the force because just prior to his legacy a negro purse snatcher had escaped from him and, jibed by his comrades, he said he would remain a policeman until he had caught the negro.

Walsh has constantly been searching for the negro. Sunday night he saw the negro leaning against the same patrol box where he had broken away the night of his arrest. Walsh seized him and landed him in jail.

The policeman said yesterday he is now undecided whether or not to resign his place since he has fulfilled his long cherished purpose.

BACTERIOLOGY OF MILK.

A Study of Germs It Contains Emphasizes Importance of Cleanliness.

The bacteriological contents of milk is a matter that is taking much of the attention of scientists. Some of the cities of the east have passed laws that no milk shall be sold that contains more than half a million bacteria per cubic centimeter. One is almost staggered by the thought of such a number in as little quantity of milk as is indicated by the cubic centimeter, for that is less than a cubic inch. A centimeter is about one-thirtieth of an inch, being less than an inch. That, cubed, gives the cubic centimeter which the scientists indicate by "cc."

If milk with 500,000 bacteria in every cubic centimeter be allowed to be sold, how numerous must the bacteria be in some milk? Well, the Oklahoma station made a bacteriological examination of some milk that came to the station after it was 3-10 days old. Every cubic centimeter of that milk contained 462,600,000 bacteria. The milk delivered in winter when it was five days old contained 134,800,000 bacteria.

In summer the first three days after the milk was drawn saw a steady increase in the number of bacteria, and in winter the bacteria increased for four days after the milk was drawn. After that time the bacteria decreased, being destroyed by the products of the germs themselves. In the summer months a very large number of the bacteria were gas-producing.

This shows how necessary it is to have the milk as clean as possible. It must not be supposed that these bacteria were disease germs, for such is not the idea. Some germs are bringers of disease and some are not. Some are harmless or improve the food in which they exist. But it is recognized that since the disease germs are numerous at first in milk the smaller the number of all germs the smaller is likely to be the number of disease germs. Moreover, even the lactic acid ferments hasten the souring of the milk, and that destroys it for some of the purposes for which it is bought in cities. The germ content is therefore limited by law.

"SUPERIOR OF JEFFRIES"

JOHN L. SULLIVAN IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN WHEN HE WAS IN HIS PRIME.

THIS IS VIEW OF "BILLY" MADDEN

Who Made a Tour of America With Sullivan When the Latter Was King, Before He Met James J. Corbett and Lost.

New York, Feb. 4.—What would have been the result had John L. Sullivan in his prime met in the ring James J. Jeffries in his prime? This is purely an academic question, for, of course, the two men never can, in fact, ever could have met under the conditions named.

The question is prompted by two articles which have recently appeared in local sporting papers. One sporting writer, in speaking of Sullivan, says:

"John L. Sullivan was a heavy hitter, but was in the same class as Maher in the matter of cleverness. Sullivan never landed his blows on a clever boxer. He retained the championship of America for ten years simply for the reason that he refused to fight any of the real good men of his time—Peter Jackson, Frank Slavin and Joe Goddard, any one of whom could have sent the Boer boy to the grass in short order."

at is one side of the question. Now comes an interview with Billy Madden, who ought to be about as good a judge of the fighting man as anyone that could be picked out offhand. He says:

"Jim Jeffries would not have had a chance in the world with John L. Sullivan when the Boston boy was in his prime. I've heard a lot of talk about what Jeff and his mountain of strength would have done against the Old Roman, but let me tell you that I've seen them all, and John was king."

While I am not so cock sure as Madden seems to be that Sullivan would have been able to have taken Jeffries measure with ease at any time in his career, on the other hand, this talk of John L. meeting only third-raters, and not being able to land on a clever man is to laugh.

I saw Sullivan in all his fights, from the time he put Steve Taylor out at Harry Hill's, and fought one of the greatest fights with John Flood that I ever saw, up to the time that the wreck of Sullivan was put out by Jim Corbett, and I have seen pretty much of the good ones in action ever since. Sullivan was a natural fighter; he could hit the hardest blow of any man I ever saw, and before he was wrecked by drink I do not believe there was any man that ever lived who could have beaten him.—Jeff Thompson.

THE BLEATING CALF.

Sign That It Will Not Make a Good Dairy Animal.

Every dairyman of experience has observed that now and then he will come to be the owner of a calf that will bleat almost continuously. When it eats it is quiet enough and a short time may elapse before it will start in with its uneasy noise. It is a restless spirit. It is exceedingly annoying to us for it would indicate under ordinary circumstances that the animal lacked either food, water or care. We do not propose to have that condition exist upon Coteau farm. We have made a study of these restless creatures and find that unless they would not be stopped. This bleating with them does not mean a lack of food, water or care, but is an expression of a restlessness of the spirit which dwells within them. We make it a rule to get rid of such animals as soon as possible. Sometimes we can fatten them, more often not. Restlessness and fattening do not usually come together. We always consider that such an animal is a burden to the farm. If we can do no better, they go to the buyer as a canner.

Keep Young Cows.

A good cow is young. She should not be more than four or five years old when you buy her. The next four years will be her best. You want her during that time. Again, the good cow will have a good big bag and fair sized teats. You can't get milk without some place for storing it. Then, follow the milk vein up and see if it be large, entering the body through a good-sized aperture. These are signs of the good cow.

BOER BOY AFTER A TITLE

WILL RUDOLPH UNHOLZ BECOME THE SUCCESSOR OF JOSEPH GANS.

MANY SPORTS THINK THAT HE WILL

He is Another Freak Fighter of the Nelson Class, His Muscles Standing Out Prominently All Over His Body.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 4.—Will a Boer boy, born in that South African land of war and revolution, become the successor of Joseph Gans when Father Time has robbed the Old Master of his strength and cleverness? There are many sports in this City of Angels who are inclined to answer this question in the affirmative. Rudolf (Boer) Unholz is the name of this phenomenon from the dark continent, and his bout tonight with Battling Nelson will go far toward deciding his future.

Much Unholz money is in sight and the general opinion is that the Battler will have to show a considerable improvement over his recent form if he proves his superiority over the clever, slashing Boer. Joe Thomas saw Unholz fight Memsie, and was so greatly enthused that he is said to have placed a thousand simoleons on the Boer to beat Nelson in tonight's ten-round bout.

Like Billy Papke and Packy McFarland, the Boer was practically unknown until he made a fair reputation in fighting in different towns in the east. He fought young Kenny, Young Donahue and Kid Pantz at clubs around Boston, and then he drifted west, where "Rawhide" Kelly, ex-manager of Cyclone Thompson, took hold of him. Kelly touted Unholz as the goods, and after falling out with Thompson he matched the pair. The Cyclone was put away in a punch after thirty seconds of fighting. Thompson was just after going twenty rounds with Memsie at Los Angeles.

Unholz then came to Los Angeles, where he posted a fo to fight any lightweight in the country, and, after waiting several weeks, George Memsie finally took the Boer on for a ten-round go, thinking he would be soft picking. In that fight Unholz was an easy winner after the second round, battering Memsie around the ring and winning the house over by his aggressive style.

In the opening rounds Memsie forced the fight, but the defence Boer put up was so perfect that it was impossible for the Bohemian to land effectively. They fought at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock, and split the money seventy-five and twenty-five. Unholz is a great kisser, and had Memsie in the air, tossing mean sayings at him in German; and that is not the only language he speaks, by the way. Rudie is quite a linguist, and can chirp in eight different languages, which comes in handy when fighting boys of different nationalities.

Unholz is a natural lightweight and looks more like a weight lifter than anything else. He is another freak fighter of the Nelson class. His muscles stand out prominently all over his body and he has the endurance of a bull. He has fought close to 150 battles and has never been knocked out. Before coming to this country he cleaned up all the fighters of any prominence in South Africa. From featherweights to light heavies. In the event that the Boer wins from Nelson, his manager will post a forfeit to fight any lightweight in the world, Packy McFarland or Joe Gans preferred, and will make a $5,000 bet on the side. Unholz has proven that he is no "lemon," but, to the contrary, looks like a candidate for championship honors. His last ring performances will no doubt be interesting, now that he has made good. He has fought in Australia and England, having had fifty-nine battles in the latter country.

A few of his important battles follow:

Gypsy King, D. 48 rounds, South Africa; Watty Austin, D. 20 rounds, South Africa; Jack Nelson, K. 2 rounds, England. This Nelson fought Spike Sullivan a twenty-round draw prior to meeting Unholz. The Boer had fifty-nine battles in England. In Johannesburg, South Africa, Unholz knocked out Jack Sampson, Solly Seebel, Jack Spencer, Jack Hynis, Jack Barton, Bert Peddler, and drew with Watty Austin for the featherweight championship at 126 pounds. He has also fought and defeated all the lightweights in Australia. In his fight with Jim Hollaway for the lightweight championship of South Africa Unholz gained the decision thus winning a side bet of $1,000 and a $5,000 purse.

Since coming to this country Unholz has fought Young Donahue, Billy

THE HORSE OR MOTOR?

What Kind of Force for Plowing Shall Be Used?

On the ordinary farm the animal is still of greater service than any mechanical force. The steam plow is good on the large area, but the man of small means and having under his control a small farm will depend on the horse or the ox, the mule or the cow. Which kind he shall use must be governed by the conditions under which he works. It may be surprising to those living on the prairies of the west to learn that even oxen are still used for the work of plowing. But on hilly, stony land the ox is still valuable for a plow animal. The fact that he is slow makes him the more valuable, for when the plow is moving among stones and roots it is better that it move slowly than rapidly. But on the lands of the west, says the Farmers' Review, a fast-moving animal is needed, and the ox is outclassed. The same variations apply to the use of plows drawn by electric motors and to greater plows driven by steam. Some experiments have recently been made in Germany to determine at just what point the steam plow is more valuable than the plow drawn by horses or oxen. The conclusion is reached that it is impossible to make an estimate. In the report the cost of power machinery for plowing and cultivating small farms is said to be prohibitive, but where farmers owning large areas can co-operate and buy a steam plow this is declared to be a matter of economy.

CONFESSES KILLING MOTHER

Youth Says He Choked Her When Attacked With a Razor.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 4.—William H. Gray, Jr., a stenographer 18 years old, summoned the police to his home yesterday saying that he had killed his mother.

The officers found the mother, Clara Gray, dead from strangulation. The youth's story is that he had been sitting reading when his mother called him down stairs; that when he reached the lower floor she made a lunge at him with a razor, inflicting a deep wound on his right arm, and that in attempting to restrain her he choked her.

Young Gray said that when he found his mother dead he was so frightened that he did not give the alarm for an hour or more, when he called up his brother and the police. To his brother he telephoned:

"Mother is done for; I have killed her."

Members of the family and neighbors say that Mrs. Gray was a very high strung woman, prone to hysteria verging on insanity.

The interstate commerce commission has been deluged with letters and telegrams for the past week protesting against the proposal of the railroads that the commission suspend the enforcement of the law providing that railroad telegraphers shall not be permitted to work more than nine hours a day.

Since Saturday last 1759 such protests have been received by the commission in the form of telegrams. They come from telegraphers employed by the railroads and from union labor leaders.

The law in question will become effective March 4. While the commission has made no formal ruling on the application of the railroads that an extension shall be allowed, it is understood that the members of the commission are of the opinion that they have no discretion but to begin enforcing the law upon the date named.

A committee of railroad operating executive officers conferred last week with President Roosevelt on the proposition to suspend operation of the law, but he said that he had no discretion in the matter and referred the committee to the international commerce commission. An amendment of the nine-hour clause can only be obtained through congress.

Car Employees Get Bonus.

The Pullman Palace Car company Monday distributed $174,850 among 5770 employees of its car service department. The bonus amounts to one month's salary for every conductor and porter who continued on the pay roll of the company throughout 1907 and escaped demerits.

The maximum number of porters employed during the year was 4,400, and conductors 1689. Not all of these were eligible because they had not been in the employ of the company for a full year.

Others were unable to show a record free from adverse reports. It is the intention of the company to grant the bonus of one month's pay each year hereafter to such conductors and porters as make a clean record throughout the year.

Boiler Makers' Strike Ended.

President Gallivan, of the International Union of Boiler Makers, yesterday announced that the strike of boiler makers against the several railroads in Minnesota is declared off. This announcement follows the vote which was taken last week to determine whether the strike should continue. Mr. Gallivan said that weather conditions have been against the men, as the roads have not needed the equipment that they would ordinarily have needed in a severe winter. The men have been on strike since September.

The railroad officials announced that they will take back such men as they need.

Coupling Broke; Lives Saved.

The Pennsylvania passenger train from Shenandoah to Pottsville, Pa., escaped a frightful accident Monday afternoon when the engine left the rails on the top of the Broad mountain, near the Frackville station, and plunged over an almost perpendicular embankment to a road 100 feet below.

The coupling between the engine and the first car broke and the coaches remained on the track. The engineer, U. G. Siegfried, of Pottsville, was crushed to death, but his fireman, R. R. Shock, escaped severe injury by jumping.

WAS IT TO BOOST TAFT?

How the President's Message Is Being Regarded in Washington.

Washington, Feb. 4.—To a group of callers yesterday President Roosevelt said he would pursue congress no further in regard to legislation suggested in his recent message. Asked if he would follow the usual rule and call leading members from both houses in to discuss certain features of legislation, he replied:

"Why should I? I have told them what I think and it is now up to congress to do as it pleases."

This is construed in Washington to mean that his recent message was simply a stump speech intended to boost Taft.

The president also remarked that in a general way he had always favored a tariff commission, but said he had given no study to the details and had no present intention of sending a message to congress on that subject.

MAN NOT YET ARRESTED

Thomas Saxton, Charged With Murder
at Fort Scott.

Thomas Saxton continues to improve at the city hospital, although the attending physician forbids any officer to notify the patient that he is wanted for murder at Fort Scott. Chief Boult has notified the sheriff at Fort Scott of the physician's orders here, and as soon as possible the sheriff will be here to identify Saxton.

A photograph of the patient was sent to Chief Ahern, of the Kansas City police department, by Chief Boult yesterday, but no word has been received as to whether or not Saxton is the man who murdered Patrolman Fuller in the Kaw city last December.

Confessed to Wilful Perjury.

London, Feb. 4.—Miss Mary Robinson, an American woman, today made a full confession of wilful perjury in the celebrated Druce case.

GOES BACK TO THE NAVY

Luther Reinart, the Deserter, Who Was Arrested Here.

Luther Reinart, the confessed deserter from the United States navy, was arrested for the second time by Officer Card in Southeast Sedalia at 7 o'clock last night. He was taken to the city calaboose and lodged behind the bars.

Tomorrow either Chief of Police Boult or one of his men will leave for Norfolk, Va., to return Reinart to the navy.

A letter was received by Chief Boult yesterday, asking that Reinart be rearrested and returned to the navy. All expenses are to be paid for returning the deserter and also a reward of $20 for his apprehension.

Reinart enlisted in the navy at Oklahoma City on March 20, 1907, and deserted the battleship Missouri on November 29, 1907. He was arrested several weeks ago by Officer Card, but later was released, as the naval authorities appeared not to desire his return.

While awaiting word from Washington, Reinart broke jail and escaped, but was later recaptured.
